CATECHESIS IN THE MISSION OF THE CHURCH

PROGRAMME FOR CATECHISTS 2017-18

FOREWORD

We are very blessed in our Diocese with over 1000 catechists currently involved in every area of catechesis. Their faith and commitment continue to inspire so many of our people. Some catechists have been involved in this ministry for many years while others have become involved more recently. We are deeply grateful for their witness.

This course for catechists, 'Catechesis in the Mission of the Church' is now in its fourth year and has already been of great benefit to those who engaged with it. Its purpose is to support those already involved in catechesis in further developing their own faith and understanding and also to offer a structured programme for those interested in becoming a catechist. Each of the modules offers a time of prayer, teaching, reflection and also a time for questions.

As well as the 18 modules spread over three terms, there will also be offered sessions of preparation for the specific areas of catechesis i.e. Confirmation, Reconciliation and Eucharist and a Day of Recollection. You will see from this booklet that we have a good team of experienced, dedicated priests, deacons, religious and lay people who will deliver the modules.

This programme will be ongoing for the foreseeable future so it may be that you consider undertaking it over a single year or over several years. Upon completion of the programme, you will be invited to receive a Diocesan Certificate in Catechesis at the Education and Formation Mass celebrated by Bishop Séamus.

We hope that this venture will bring many blessings to present catechists and future generations of catechists to come and will further enrich catechesis across the Diocese.

TUTOR PROFILES

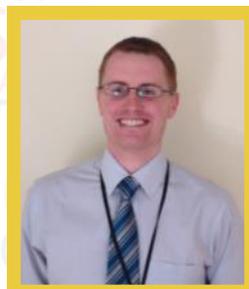

Deacon Rob Wareing and his wife Barbara have been catechists for Reconciliation, First Communion and Confirmation in three parishes since 1998. He was on the working party for the Diocesan Reconciliation and First Communion programme and in January 2013 joined the team designing the Programme for Catechists 'Catechesis in the Mission of the Church'. He was employed by the NHS for almost 50 years having retired in February 2015. In 2009 he answered a call to a new vocation to the Permanent Diaconate and was ordained in June 2013.

Kathryn Turner is Head of the Diocesan Department for Spirituality. She is a member of the Bishops' Conference Spirituality Committee and was one of the writing team who produced the Bishops' Document on Catholic Spirituality, Do you love me?. She has worked for many years in the areas of spirituality, liturgy and catechesis and has contributed articles and chapters to various journals and books which aim to help people in parishes learn more about the great richness of our Catholic Spirituality.

Rev Michael Griffiths was ordained in 1979 and has worked in Parishes in Gateshead, Sunderland, South Tyneside, West Durham and now Hartlepool. Rev Michael also worked for five years with the Catholic Missionary Society based in London conducting parish missions and running courses up and down the country. Rev Michael is part of the Diocesan Evangelisation team.

Tim Rochester gained a Master of Theology from the University of St Andrew's in 2002 and an MA in Education from the University of Durham in 2008. He has been teaching in Catholic Education since 2003. Tim is currently a teacher of Religious Education and Head of Year 7 at St Michael's Catholic Academy in Billingham. He is responsible for teaching RE to 11-16 year olds, the pastoral needs of Year 7 students and the transition of Year 6 primary students to St Michael's. He has also taught the CCRS for Hexham and Newcastle for the past 10 years.

Rev Chris Jackson is Administrator of St Cuthbert's, Chester-le-Street and St Bede's, Sacriston. Having grown up in Sunderland, he studied theology at King's College London in the late 1960s. Thirty years later he still had a lot of unanswered questions and went part-time to Durham University. Were all his questions answered? Of course not! But as a mature student he was shown how to develop ways of reading the Bible. These have enriched his own faith and helped him to pass on that faith to others. He describes himself as not an academic scholar but an enthusiastic student of Scripture... which is what every Catholic is called to be.

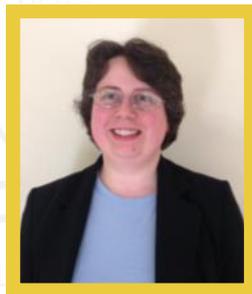

Sr Michael worked in secondary education from 1960-1997. In 1997 she was asked to develop evangelisation, spirituality and ongoing formation in the diocese; giving talks, leading programmes and supporting local efforts. Her main interest has always been in helping people to develop their own faith and spreading it to others in a multitude of ways. Until 2016, she co-ordinated evangelisation activity in the diocese. Though still involved in evangelisation initiatives, she now concentrates on the Centre for Prayer and Mission in Seaham – an oasis for prayer and on-going formation for parish groups and individuals, especially in the area of scriptural spirituality.

A common complaint one hears about the Mass these days is that it's boring. The aim of this module is to explore how the amazing theology behind the sacrament of the Eucharist translates into the liturgical celebration that Lumen Gentium described as "the source and summit of the Christian life". How should we approach important decisions in our own lives, or difficult issues such as abortion, divorce, war and social justice? What does the Church teach on moral questions, and can we explain and uphold our Catholic beliefs in a secular society? This module aims to help participants to understand the Church's moral teaching, to examine their own beliefs, and to develop their skills in making moral decisions.
